HOW IT WORKS -

Children will be placed into groups best suited according to their belt, age and height to try and ensure a positive experience for all

There are two categories in this competition;

KATA students will perform their kata that they practise in class. We will split the children into belt levels. Younger children and lower belts will perform their kata in groups of two or three and higher belts will perform their kata individually

KUMITE students will compete in groups that will be split up as much as possible by belt, height and age. Children will be rewarded points for controlled and accurate technique, and uncontrolled moves will result in penalty

These competitions are ideal for introducing you to competitive karate
